Today's learners have a lot to consider before taking courses online but may not think about the technologies (devices, browsers, etc.) they will use in these courses or the internet requirements for accessing them.

The problem is …

Many of today's technologies just won't work in most learning environments.

TEN
Tech criteria for using any

In fact, no user-owned technology is 100% compatible with any learning system (LMS) by default. Indeed, every device must meet at least 10 criteria for learners to benefit fully from learning online.

ZERO
Devices meet these criteria by default

Rather than posting technical requirements to a website, sending users there and hoping for the best, why not offer your learners a more helpful solution?

With one click, TechReady.io scans user-owned technologies to make sure they meet _your_ requirements and gives learners solutions to any problems it uncovers.

Product Highlights

Branded and configured uniquely for each organization, with nothing to install and no personal information collected, TechReady.io compares user-owned technologies to your specific requirements, evaluating devices, browsers, plugins, security settings, data connections and more.

Advanced Browser Testing with Solutions

With one click, TechReady.io scans settings important for your users and delivers results in less than 30 seconds. If it detects any problems, TechReady.io presents solutions that are easy to follow–no calls to the helpdesk required.

Unprecedented Insight

Through the TR Dashboard, our members gain insight into the technologies used by their users. These data help decision makers know the impact system changes or curriculum (re)designs will have on their customers and can reveal shifting trends in technology.
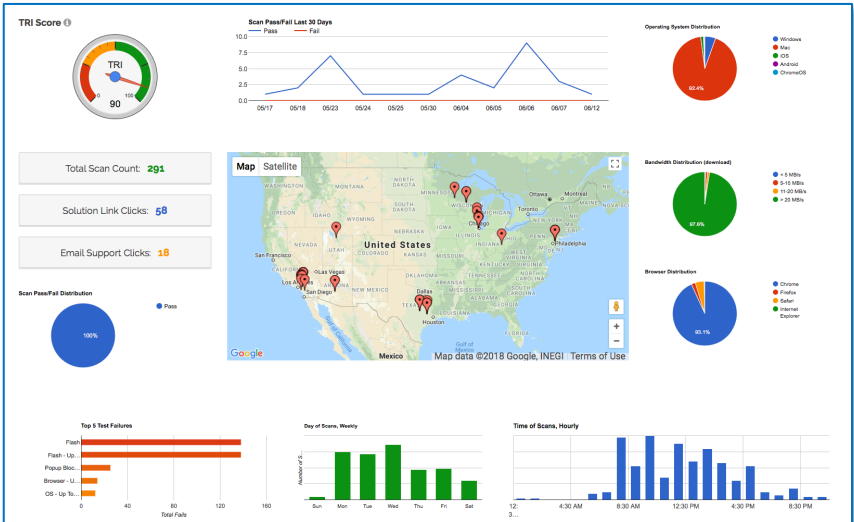

Reduced Support Time

If a call to tech support becomes necessary, TechReady.io really shines. Our patent-pending technology assigns each scan a unique ID. When shared with the help desk, agents locate these results without the need to ask users for this information. This feature saves several minutes on every call and allows support teams to focus quickly on problems, decreasing resolution time and increasing their value to your customers.

Our commitment

TechReady.io will help your online learners succeed, give your organization insight into the technologies used by your learners, and provide a repeatable, streamlined process for improving your technical support.
